

MR. NOBLE SAYS CARPENTERS WILL NOT STRIKE

They Will However Adhere to Their Demands Previously Made.

Business agent, Robert V. Noble of the Carpenters union today stated that the union carpenters had no intention of striking on May 1. They however had made their demand upon the Master Builders for forty four hours work to constitute a week's work with a minimum wage rate of forty-one cents per hour and they should adhere to it. The union has a membership of upwards of one hundred. On the other hand the Master Builders Association, have voted unanimously not to entertain the demands made by the members of the union for shorter hours and an increase of wages.

ANOTHER MAN HAS CONFESSED

Prisoner at Blackwell's Island Says
He Was One of Three Men Who Killed Mattie Hackett

New York, April 29—What may prove to be the solution of an eight year old murder mystery—the killing of Mattie Hackett, a young girl of Readfield, Me., on August 17, 1905—was furnished by Richard F. Dunbar, a prisoner at Blackwell's Island, in a statement to a city detective today.

Dunbar implicated himself and two other men in the crime, the police say.

Already Mrs. Elsie Raymond of Readfield has been tried for the murder of the girl and acquitted.

Dunbar, according to the statement given out at police headquarters tonight, said that he feared other innocent persons might be charged with a crime for which he and two others are responsible. This reason, and also the fact he said, that ever since the murder he had been haunted with visions of the victim led him to confess.

Parts of the alleged confession given out by the police quote Dunbar as saying he became friendly with a young man of good family at Readfield, who told him he had a girl he wanted to get out of the way, naming Mattie Hackett.

His friend and another man and himself, went to the Hackett home, he said and while the third man got the girl's father out of the house on some pretext, he and the man who was the principal in the crime lured her to a dark spot in the road, where the other man strangled her with a rope.

A certain turnkey in the Kennebec County Jail also knows who committed the crime, Dunbar's statement says.

The Kennebec county authorities, have been notified of Dunbar's confession. Dunbar said he had been arrested in Readfield later on another charge and sent to jail, but escaped.

Dunbar was arrested in Cheyenne, Wyo., in November on the charge of having absconded several hundred dollars from the Williamsburg Tork Packing Co., of Brooklyn. He was convicted here and sentenced to nine months imprisonment.

ALIEN LAND BILL PASSED

California Legislature by Unanimous Vote Adopts Bill Directed Against the Japanese

Sacramento, Cal., April 30.—If the purpose of the visit of Secretary of State Bryan was to check further action by the legislature on an alien land law directed against Japanese, his mission has been a failure.

Directly after the conference between Secretary Bryan and the legislature an amended land bill which provides that no alien who is ineligible to citizenship under the laws of the United States may hold real property in California was adopted as a substitute for the pending measure by an unanimous vote.

The possibility of an amicable adjustment of the alien land controversy by means of a new bill drawn in strict conformity with the treaty between Japan and the United States confronted tonight the third secret conference of Secretary Bryan with Gov. Johnson and the California legislature.

Atty. Gen. Webb drafted a new measure at the suggestion of Gov. Johnson and a copy was placed immediately in the hands of Secretary Bryan. The term "ineligible to citizenship" which is declared by Secretary Bryan, odious to Japan is not included. The attorney general worked upon the theory that there could be no objection to writing into the statute the specific limitations of the Japan treaty of 1911.

Under the terms of this treaty Japanese subjects are permitted to own "houses and land for residential purposes, factories, manufactories and shops," according to Mr. Webb.

Another clause permits Japanese subjects to lease land for "residential and commercial purposes."

These are the only stipulations made and it is the belief of the attorney general that the rights of Japanese subjects to land ownership in the United States stop at this point.

Under his construction of the treaty no land can be owned or leased by a Japanese for agricultural purposes except that which is already owned.

SAILORS SLEEP WHILE FIRE RAGES NEAR POWDER

Sailors Imperilled by Blaze
Adjoining Magazine at Charlestown.

While hundreds of sailors slept in their hammocks in nearby war vessels at the Charlestown navy yard yesterday, fire raged fiercely in a paint storehouse adjoining a magazine where 10,000 pounds of powder were stored.

Prompt action by the crew of the supply ship Co'tie, berthed at pier 9, in pouring tons of water into the paint house, prevented the fire spreading to the explosive.

Quartermaster McLaughlin discovered the fire. Two hundred and sixty-six bluejackets tumbled from their hammocks and manned the pumps. Wet tarpaulins were flung in to the store room to smother the blaze and the bulkheads and a section of the interior of the powder magazine doused to prevent an explosion. The fire was extinguished with a loss of about $500.

PORTSMOUTH ARMORY BILL PASSED SENATE

Now Up to Gov. Felker--Bank Commissioner Bill Passed After Long Debate.

Concord, April 29.—Governor Felker scored one this morning when the fight over the administration measure opened without even a preliminary skirmish over the bill which provides for the abolishment of the board of three bank commissioners and the creating of a board of one commissioner with the assistance of a deputy, and which was fought out in nearly two hours of argument.

The bill came from the committee on revision of the statutes with a divided report, and the contest was over the substitution of the minority report of inexperience in legislation, which was finally lost on a roll call and following a division by the vote of 162 to 181.

In the senate the Portsmouth armory bill was reported favorably by the Finance Committee and passed. It is now up to the Governor.

Speaker Britton capped the house in order after the long recess of last week at 10:20 o'clock this morning. The senate came in for prayers by Chaplain Welton.

In spite of the personal notification sent to the members by Governor Felker and the party leaders, there was a sizable list of absentees for leave of absence, among which were the following: Messrs. Thurston of Newport, Brewster of Portsmouth, Benson of Derry, Lawrence of Haverhill, Whipple of Kingston, Burns of Monroe, Stickney of Campton, Elliott of Laconia, Norwood, Torrey and Edwards of Manchester, and Tibbels of Somersworth.

A petition protesting against the passage of house bill 62, which relates to the licensing and inspection of motor boats, was presented by Representative Fowler of Laconia.

Speaker Britton named as the house members of the conference committee to consider the gray squirrel bill, which was amended in the senate so as to provide for an open season in the month of October, Messrs. Chase of Concord, Osmond of Pittsfield and Hobbs of Ossipee.

The bill abolishing the bank commission and creating the office of bank commissioner came in with a divided report, a majority of inexperience in legislation.

Mr. Smith of Peterborough moved the substitution of the minority report and supported his motion on the floor saying that the banks of the state held one hundred millions, for the most part deposited by those of small means. That they had conducted the business in a manner that had resulted in the state being free from defaulters. Mr. Smith said that although the bill provided for a deputy it specified nothing for him to do but draw his salary. That one man could not do the work of examining the books of the state banks in a thorough or competent manner.

That there would be but one man with no one to check errors if they occurred.

Mr. Smith said that the passage of the bill would be a step backward. That the judgment of three men was of more value than that of one in judging of the securities which the banks were allowed to hold.

Mr. Cutler of Jaffrey supported the majority report, on the ground that the work would be as efficiently done at a saving to the state; that one man would have sufficient time, with the assistance of a deputy; that the present board had, according to the reports, one hundred and forty days each year with nothing to do; that the charge would result in a saving to the state of about $4000. Mr. Cutler said that Massachusetts and many of the other states had adopted the one-man commission and had found it to work satisfactorily.

Mr. Hupbee of Hanover said that the provisions of the bill were not consistent, inasmuch as it provided for a five-year term for the commissioner and but a few days previously a six-year term for county commissioners was opposed on the ground that the time was too long. Mr. Hupbee said that in the states where there was not a bank examination there was not a bank examination that was worthy of the name. In regard to the provision of the bill which provided that the banks should bear a part of the expense, it was a rank injustice, as it would come out of the depositors; that the present board was, in accordance with the law, non-partisan; that the proposed bill would put the office back into politics.

Mr. Brennan of Peterborough favored the bill, saying that the office of bank commissioner was one of the most important in the state; that a good deal of the discussion was unnecessary, and took exception to the statement of Mr. Hupbee of Hanover, that a one-man commission examination was not worthy of the name, and cited the fact that a national examiner made his examinations unassisted; that there were only about eighty-five institutions in the state which came under the jurisdiction of the bank commissioners and that, allowing three days to each, the commissioners would have three months of leisure; that the work would be done more efficiently.

Mr. Morse of Newmarket said they had a bank in his vicinity that left when it was settled by the building and that was about all. Mr. Morse allowed that the bill was an administration measure and that the governor wouldn't recommend anything that wasn't all right, and gave the assurance that if the bill became a law no one need be frightened.

Mr. Cough of Concord said that the bill was the first of a whole line of administration measures that were coming before the house in the course of the week; that he should speak against none of them simply from partisan motives. He was opposed to the bill as a trustee of a saving bank himself. He believed the combined judgment of three men was superior to that of one; that it would be a serious mistake to pass the bill; that he

CARPENTERS VOTE TO STRIKE THURSDAY

Master Builders Refuse Absolutely the Demand for a Forty-Four Hour Week.

A meeting of the Master Builders Association was held on Tuesday to take action on the reply of the Carpenters Union to their notice that they could not grant the demand of the Union. As is known the Union last January gave notice to the Master Builders that they would demand after May first, a forty four hour week, and an increase in wages, or 41 cents an hour.

To this the Master Builders last week sent a reply that they could not consider such a short working week as 44 hours and could not grant any further increase in pay.

The union at a meeting on Monday evening virtually sent word to the Master Builders that they would strike, but stated that a committee had been authorized to further discuss the matter if the Master Builders so desired.

agreed with Mr. Smith of Peterborough that the deputy would amount to nothing.

Mr. Cough took exception to the statement of Mr. Brennan of Peterborough that it cost more under the present system than with one man, and said that the experience of Massachusetts and other states which had adopted that method and proved the contrary; that the bill would not work out as an economy measure; that the people of New Hampshire placed a larger proportion of their money in savings banks than any state in the Union; that if the Democrats would use their best business judgment and leave politics out of the question they would retain the present system and have a three-man commission, with two Democrats at the head of it.

Mr. Aherne favored the passage of the bill claiming there were no politics in the measure; that the governor who recommended the bill, had thoroughly investigated the matter and was convinced that the work could be done as safely and well by one commissioner and a deputy as by the present board of three. Mr. Aherne favored the bill on the ground of economy.

Mr. Clifford of Franklin favored the adoption of the minority report, saying that the measure should receive serious consideration before any action was taken; that in the savings banks there was no one who could be compelled to make up deficits, as in the case of the national banks; that it was the height of folly to attempt to save two or three thousand dollars and in so doing jeopardize a million; that there should be no politics in the matter; that the banks in the state were being examined in a competent manner and that it was not safe to make the change.

Mr. Wason of Nashua said that he was glad to learn that there were no politics in the measure; that it appeared to him as the president of a bank; that not a single director; trustee or president of a bank in New Hampshire was in favor of the bill; that the judgment of the bank officials was better than that of the men who who had had nothing to do with or no knowledge of the working of the business of the banks; that the depositors depended on the judgment of the bank examiners. That he asked for the adoption of the minority report, even if it did cost the state of two or three thousand dollars more.

The previous question was called for by Mr. Carter of Portsmouth, and the motion to substitute the minority report of inexperience.

The motion was declared lost on a viva voce vote by Mr. Dean of Belmont, who had been called to the chair, and Mr. Smith of Peterborough called for a division and the motion to substitute was lost by the close vote of 162 to 183.

Mr. Clifford of Franklin called for a viva voce vote by Mr. Dean of Belmont, who had been called to the chair, and Mr. Smith of Peterborough called for a division and the motion to substitute was lost by the close vote of 162 to 183.

Mr. Carter of Portsmouth moved to suspend the rules and put the bill on its final passage.

Mr. Elwell of Exeter, said that the result of the passage of the bill was to legislate two Democrats and one Progressive out of office and he thought the bill might as well take its regular course.

Mr. Aherne of Concord was of the same opinion, adding a warning that the Democrats should be present at all calls.

The bill then passed.

HOWE—PERLEY.

Young Woman Well Known In Newington Married at Ipswich.

On Friday last occurred the marriage of Miss Carrie Abble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Sidney Verley, of Lymebrook, and Benjamin Howe of Cambridge, the ceremony taking place at the Congregational church, and being performed by Rev. William P. Abbott, assisted by Rev. John E. Charlton of Salem.

The Master Builders at the meeting on Tuesday evening voted unanimously not to grant the demand of the Union and as all of the Master Builders were present it looks as though there would be a strike on Thursday morning, as that is the time specified for the increase to go into effect.

The Master Builders are united on the matter and claim that the demands of the Union men are unreasonable. They state that the carpenters get an eight hour day with $3.00 a day wage and that is reasonable.

The Union claims that they should have Saturday afternoon off and that their wages should be raised, and that there is no good reason why both demands should not be granted. It is said that some of the Union carpenters will refuse to strike if the order is given.

The best man was D. Willard Leavitt. The party of the groom met that of the bride at the altar.

The bridal party consisted of the ushers, Evelyn L. Perley, sister of the bride, Beth Howe, sister of the groom, Mildred Collins, his cousin, Edith Tenney of Bowley and Florence Coleman of Newington, dressed in white chiffon over rainbow colors in silk with rose-bud trimmings.

The flower bearers were Maxwell Whetton and Dorothy Charlton. The maid of honor, Miss Marion Perley, was dressed in yellow chiffon over pink satin.

The bride came in on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore draped white silk, on train, and veil caught with filices of the valley, and carried a shower bouquet of the same flower with maidenhair fern.

The wedding reception was held in the bride's home directly after the ceremony.

The bride's mother, previous to her marriage, was Miss Louise Hart of Newington.

Cottolene

is 1/3 richer than butter

Cottolene is not for table use, but it is the best cooking fat for all shortening and frying. If you are using butter in your kitchen you are paying at least twice as much as necessary to secure the same results with Cottolene.

Another point of economy about Cottolene—use one-third less than you would of butter or lard.

Cottolene is a clean, pure product, and makes wholesome, healthful, digestible food, because it is a vegetable and not an animal fat.

Cottolene is never sold in bulk—always in air-tight tin pails, which protect it from dirt, dust and odors. It is always uniform and dependable.

What Is Happening In the Harbor Town.

The tide now ebbs and flows freely in the English schooner Evolution, beached near Cull's Wharf, after going ashore at the north of the harbor. While waiting orders from the owners, the Captain and crew have taken refuge on board the schooner William P. Hood, which is discharging a cargo of coal near by for the Atlantic Shore railroad. It is thought that the Evolution will be abandoned and probably sold at auction. This is the third time the vessel has been in trouble at this port.

The Willing Workers will meet on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Mabel Anne.

C. Stanley Segee has resumed his duties on the Atlantic Shore railroad after a vacation.

Extensive repairs are being made to the house of Mrs. M. T. Hornsberger, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Norton.

George Mitchell of York has been a recent visitor to relatives in town. Mrs. Louise Cole of Portsmouth, recently visited friends in town.

Clarence Estes has resumed his duties at the navy yard, after a brief vacation.

Mrs. John M. Howells of New York arrived on Monday evening to open her summer home for the season. She was accompanied by her father in law, William Dean Howells, two children and nurses.

Joseph Amazeen has received a call from the navy yard as painter.

The house of Mrs. Maria Frisbee is being greatly improved by the addition of a broad piazza, the work being done by Morton Seawards.

Tripp Academy is closed for a week's vacation.

The Atlantic Shore railroad power house is to be wired for electric lights to be furnished by the Rockingham County Light and Power Co.

Justin Sawyer and son Clayton recently visited relatives in North Kittery.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Norton have been entertaining friends from out of town. Called—Schoover, Singleton, Palmer for Hampton Roads, Va.

In a prominent place on the first page of a Portsmouth newspaper of Tuesday is a truly remarkable account of an alleged accident in the cove harbor on Monday evening, the whole worked in a manner calculated to make any of Portsmouth's old time sailors turn in their graves. Stripped of many striking and harrowing details, the story printed is that at 7.30 on Monday evening, the three masted schooner Jonathan came into the lower harbor and anchored. A steam was sent aloft to reef the sails, but fell from the braces, was badly injured by striking the vessel's side, and would have been drowned but for the heroic act of a shipmate, etc., etc. It seems cruel to pick flaws in this extremely nautical account of a shocking affair, but the stern truth of the matter is:

1st. There was no three masted schooner in the harbor on Monday evening.

2nd. Not being in it is doubtful if she went out Tuesday morning as stated.

3rd. There has been no three masted schooner anchored in the harbor for over a week.

4th. There is no such schooner as the Jonathan, either of two, three, four, five, or any other old number of masts.

5th. The sailors on schooners do not go aloft to reef the sails.

6th. Sails are not commonly reefed after the vessel has anchored in a harbor; at least not so as you would notice it.

7th. There are no braces on a schooner for a mast to fall from.

8th. No schooner of any sort entered the harbor Monday evening or left on Tuesday morning.

9th. Diligent search fails to disclose any person at Kittery Point aware of any accident; much less that the injured man was brought ashore to a friend's house on Tuesday morning as reported. With these few trifling corrections, this very startling little story of maritime mishap appears to be correct in every particular.

The Boston & Maine railroad has practically given up the idea of attempting to get its own water supply in this city.

The trackmen of the terminal division of the Boston & Maine are on a strike for ten cents more a day. They claim the work they perform is more laborious than the other section crews owing to the location.

A large crew of palaters are engaged along the Portland division of the Boston & Maine touching up the company fences.

Dispatches from Hammond, Indiana, says the Baldwin Locomotive Works begins work this week on the East Chicago plant, estimated to cost $500,000, comprising three units with 30 locomotives weekly output and employing 35,000 men. The company purchased 400 acres a year ago for the site.

BANQUET IN THE NEW CHURCH BUILDING

Ladies' Aid Society Make a Great Success of Affair--150 Present.

One of the most successful events of the celebration of the dedication of the new Methodist church building was the banquet held on Tuesday evening in the vestry of the church. It was a great success in every way and overflowing with good feeling.

There were 150 present, and they were seated at five long tables, which were prettily decorated.

The affair was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of which Mrs. J. Howard Grover is the president and they had left nothing undone to have everything ready.

The menu:

Roast Turkey	Grilled Sausage
Cranberry Sauce	Olives, Celery
Cold Ham	Cold Lamb
Mashed Potatoes	Parsnips
Assorted Pine Cake	Coffee

District Superintendent R. H. Huse was the guest of honor and he called on the following speakers:

J. Howard Grover, chairman of the building committee, who briefly outlined the work of that body.

W. M. Taylor, the architect, who spoke but a few minutes. Mr. E. W. Hartford, who spoke for the Presbytery and who related the society all possible lack in their new church which he declared was both a credit to the society and to the city.

Rev. William Warren of East Manchester and Rev. Otto Cole of Haverhill, former pastors who spoke at some length in the old church and their pastorate over this church.

Mr. Daniel McIntire one of the oldest members of the Society made a short address.

Rev. L. L. Galtier the pastor, spoke for a few minutes and announced the program for this evening. He issued a cordial invitation to everybody to come this evening and inspect the new church.

District Supt. Huse spoke after the others and the entire gathering joined in singing.

SAILORS HAVE SUPPLY SHIP AT NAVY YARD.

Honolulu, April 29.—Prompt action on the part of the crew of the United States supply ship Celtic berthed at Pier 9, Charlestown navy yard, probably saved that vessel from destruction when fire broke out in the paint storeroom adjoining the powder magazine containing 10,000 pounds of powder, early this morning. Within three minutes after the alarm had been given from the ship quarters the entire 200 bluejackets had tumbled from their hammocks and were at their fire posts.

The fire was discovered at 3.30 by Quartermaster J. McLaughlin. As the men reached their posts, the pumps were manned and tons of water were poured into the storeroom, located aft while wet tarpaulins were hung into the storeroom to smother the blaze. Bulkheads and a section of the interior of the powder magazine were doused to prevent sparks reaching the powder. Within five minutes after the alarm had been given so effectively had the crew performed its duty that there was no chance for an explosion. The damage is estimated at about $500. The ship is in command of Ensign Lewis W. Comstock.

GETTING AWAY WITH A HALF A MILLION

El Paso, Tex., April 29.—(Unfiled) Capt. Kidd's buccanniers, Francisco Villa's insurgents refuse to bury their booty. With them, over steep mountain trails, they are carrying nearly $500,000 worth of silver and gold bullion, weighing nearly a ton.

This was reported by American ranchmen arriving here today from the Madera district, where Villa is operating. The treasure was captured several days ago from a Mexican northwestern passenger train bound for Chihuahua City from the Guerrero mining district.

The metal is packed in a wagon drawn by a team of mules. Beside the wagon ride 10 guards picked from Villa's 200 followers. It is considered a daring venture to come within range of the treasure wagon. The actual value of the metal is estimated at 150,000 pesos.

Mr. Harold J. Stewart, state agent for the Equitable Life Assurance Society of London, is here for a few days on business.

PATRIOTIC EXERCISES.

Superintendent Morrison Issues Timely Hints for Observance of Schools.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Henry C. Morrison has issued the following timely instruction providing for the exercises of a patriotic nature in the public schools in connection with Memorial Day observation.

Mr. Morrison says: "No doubt every teacher will have his or her own way of bringing the lesson of the season home to the pupils. I venture to offer, however, the following suggestions:

"1. In the first place, whenever possible, ask one or more survivors of the great Civil War to come to the school and tell the children something of their own personal experiences.

"2. Have the children taught to sing with life and enthusiasm the great patriotic songs of the period, and to recall in their declamations the great literature of the period, such as, for instance, the Gettysburg address and Whitman's 'Drum Taps'.

"3. I think it is usually of the greatest importance to have the school children take part in the Memorial Day parade; first, because it impresses upon them as little else can their own personal part in the observance of the day, and will thus tend to encourage them in their own future lives to keep the day sacred; and second, because it will furnish a convenient and effective means of restraining the children from participation in the deplorable custom of making the day purely a day of sports.

"4. It seems to me that the day set apart for the observance of Memorial Day in the schools furnishes an admirable opportunity for inculcating the blessings of Peace. The day now quite generally observed as Peace Day, mainly, the 18th of May, comes quite close to Memorial Day, and I think that teachers should generally have the great world movement for universal peace in their minds upon that day in the daily round of school life, and in the lessons to be assigned. Suggestive material for correlating the Peace idea with the regular studies of the school may be secured, free of expense, from Mrs. Fanny Fern Andrews, secretary of the American School Peace League, Boston. Possibly some will prefer to concentrate the whole observance upon the patriotic observance of Memorial Day. In any case, it seems to me quite clear that one of the most conspicuous lessons to be drawn from Memorial Day itself is the lesson of Peace. It is hard for the generation now active in the nation's affairs to realize the awful cost of the war between the states—a cost which afflicted the North as well as the South, vast in its economic magnitude, but almost inconceivable in its hurt and injury to the common life of the state and of the nation, in the loss of the noble spirits whose bodies have lain through all these years in the quiet country churchyard or on the southern battlefield. The money and treasure exhausted during the four years of fighting could be replaced; the influence of the idealism, of the love of country, of the devotion to the common welfare, of those who fell, could not be replaced. And this is the lesson of every war. I ask that all school boards and all superintendents shall see that their teachers are duly informed of the expectations of the law, and that they are properly instructed in the observance of the occasion."

CANAL LEGISLATION TO GO OVER TO NEXT TERM

Washington, April 29.—By a vote of 18 to 1, the Senate Isthmian Canal Committee today decided to put over to the regular December session of Congress all questions of Panama Canal tolls, including the Senator Root amendment to repeal the free passage provision of the Panama law. Senator Brandegee voted against it.

Before the vote was taken, Senators pointed out that the Democrats were committed to tariff and currency legislation at the extra session, and that they would have enough to do in legislative on those subjects.

The overwhelming vote by which the committee agreed to the motion was taken to indicate that there would be no action on the tolls question for several months, unless President Wilson chooses to exert his influence to have it reopened. Some Senators today considered it doubtful if the President could cause the committee to change its mind, unless there were new and pressing developments in the negotiations between the State Department and the British Foreign Office.

May 1st. In addition to the opera, a splendid concert program has been arranged, which will positively include that greatest of ensembles, the sextette from "Lure of the Lighthouse," and the mad scene from "The same opera, interpreted by Miss Evelyn Scotney, the coloratura prima donna, soprano, who has been called greater than Mme. Tetrasini in this role.

In the concert division of the program two notable artists not in "The Barber" cast will bid for commendation in solo work; Miss Myring Shallow, dramatic prima donna soprano, and M. Raul Remila, first tenor.

The cast for "The Barber of Seville" will be:

Rosina, Mme. Evelyn Scotney
Don Basilio, a music master

Don Bartolo, M. Jose Mardenes
Doctor Bartolo, Rosina's Guardian,
Bertha, Rosina's Governess

Count Almaviva, M. Alfred Hummel
Figaro, the Barber, M. Rodolfo Fornari

The story of the opera is more than interesting, and gives every artist an opportunity to display histrionic ability as well as vocal power.

The Count Almaviva, desperately in love with Rosina, the ward of Doctor Bartolo, after ascending his mistress, encounters Figaro, the Barber, a meddling busy-body; to him the Count confesses his love, and they mutually plot for the purpose of bringing about the introduction of Almaviva to the maiden.

Rosina is secretly watched by her guardian, Doctor Bartolo, who cherishes a desire of wedding his ward himself; in this design he is assisted by Basilio, a music master. Rosina returns the affection of the Count, to whom, in spite of the watchfulness of her guardian, she contrives to convey a letter, declaring her passion, and her intention to break through her trammels, and at the same time requesting his name.

To obtain an interview with his mistress, the Count disguises himself as a drunken soldier, and forces his way into Bartolo's house. Rosina has already been told by Figaro that the name of the Count is Signor Lindor. The disguise of Almaviva is discovered by the guardian, the pretended soldier is placed under arrest, and the first act concludes.

In the second act, the Count again enters Bartolo's house, disguised as a music teacher pretending that he has been sent by Basilio to give a lesson in music, on account of the illness of the latter. To obtain the confidence of Bartolo, he produces Rosina's letter to himself, and offers to persuade Rosina that the letter has been given to him by a mistress of the Count, and thus break off the connection between the two.

He obtains the desired interview, which proceeds satisfactorily and Figaro manages to obtain the keys of the balcony, while at the same time an escape is determined on at midnight, and a private marriage arranged. In the meantime, Basilio himself makes his appearance, the lovers are disconcerted, and the Count makes his escape.

Bartolo, who possesses the letter of Rosina, written to the Count, succeeds, by producing it, in exciting the jealousy of his ward, who while under the influence of this feeling, discloses the plan of escape which had been arranged, and agrees to marry her guardian. At the appointed time, Figaro and the Count make their appearance, and after some confusion, the lovers are reconciled.

A notary, procured by Bartolo, celebrates the marriage of the enamored pair. Immediately afterwards, the guardian enters, accompanied by the officers of justice, into whose hands he is about to consign Figaro and the Count, when mutual explanations take place, and all parties are reconciled.

IS GOV. FELKER DOING A DOUBLE CROSS?

Concord, April 29.—There seems to be a general feeling among both the rank and file of all parties in the legislature that Governor Felker will veto the million dollar highway bill. There is also said to be a certain contingent of the Democratic party who have made no bones of stating their intention of passing the measure over the governor's veto, in case he fails to sign the bill. One at least of the Democratic floor leaders has openly stated that the measure in spite of rumors to the contrary, has, or did have, the sanction of the governor, and that he has in personal conversation with him given him to understand as much.

The man has said in regard to the measure that, if it should come back without the governor's signature, he proposes to take the floor and, as he puts it, "call a spade a spade," in a speech that will be brimful of plain language.

There are others who profess to believe that the governor is not and never has been in favor of the bill, and that the intention was to make it so top heavy from the size of the appropriation that it would fail of its own weight.

Be this as it may, there has been no measure introduced in the house for a long time that has apparently stirred up more opposition among both members of the legislature and the people of the state.

"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Consumption by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Croscott and other medicines, all without benefit.

On Christmas Eve, 1908, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. J. M. McCarthy, he advised the use of Eckman's Alternative, which I took with excellent results, and was entirely cured. I have gained in weight, I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alternative. (Signed Amos) JAB. W. KANALY.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hoarseness, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Superintendent upon "Recent New Hampshire School Buildings," and at the close of the lecture the meeting was addressed by Principal Silver of the Plymouth Normal School and Superintendent Harry A. Meredith citizens were greatly interested in the provision of an adequate modern school building, adapted to the local school needs.

Looks To The Board

The board of inspection of navy yards reported to be highly pleased with the yard in general. The old shipways are ready for equipment at any time the government feels like giving us an appropriation, according to the board as one of the best in possession of the navy department. The board visited every ship on the reservation and the lower harbor. Members of this board did not hesitate to say they were much surprised to find such an excellent station. They cannot help but approve of further development here which we have for years been fighting for, and which was partly accomplished through the good work of Senator Chittenden.

Here This Week

The machine guard from Guatemala are expected to arrive back at the yard on Thursday or Friday.

A Few More Wanted

More laborers are wanted in the hull division and the men will be called as soon as possible after their names are placed on the list.

Games Will Be Plenty

The ships on their way to this yard are said to have fast ball teams and will get out on the diamond after the Washington crew and local ones as soon as their vessels tie up at the docks.

CONNORS—MOYNIHAN.

Popular Young Couple Joined in Wedlock This Morning.

The Church of the Immaculate Conception was the scene of a very interesting wedding this morning when Miss Mary Moynihan became the bride of Maurice Connors. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward J. Walsh, P. R., who also celebrated nuptial high mass following the marriage ceremony. A large number of friends and relatives of the couple were present.

The bride wore a pretty gown of white embroidered voile over silk. She wore a white picture hat. The bridesmaid was her cousin, Miss Minnie Foley, who was dressed in Alice blue chiffon over silk. The best man was Timothy Cronin.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at their new home, 5 Atkinson street, consisting of salads, cold turkey, ham, olives, celery, rolls, assorted cake and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Connors were remembered by many handsome and costly gifts including a beautiful sideboard from the employees of the Portsmouth Brewing Company where the groom is employed. They are both popular young people and have a host of friends who wish them every joy of a long wedded life.

BOOZE IN BED TICKS.

Biddeford Man Has a New Storage for Hardware.

Sheriffs on a booze hunt at Biddeford searched the home of Alphonsus Pharoah. It appears that Alphonsus had a new storage for the wet goods in his sleeping quarters. The chambermaid had everything aple and spun and the officers took a look at the mattresses where they dug out two half pint bottles filled with whiskey; thirty six empty half pint bottles; eighteen empty one gallon jugs; six empty quart bottles; one corker.

Now the little question of the day is: "Did Alphonsus bunk with this combination?"

Look over the want column of The Herald every day.
